Commodore's Report

I am honored and humbled to say thank you to the PPYC membership for giving me the opportunity to lead as our club's Commodore again. I truly believe that if we all work together, have trust in our Board of Directors and Committees then we will have an enjoyable time this year. Please help them, and please participate.

Jimmy Lawrence Jr. and The Float Committee have been busy with the marina this winter. Fortunately no major freeze ups yet, but they have been getting prepared, rebuilding four ice bubbler motors and getting many more set on the marina. Earlier marina commitments also will help those looking for temporary seasonal storage. As has been noted there are spaces to be assigned which will keep our list moving.

Thank you, Jim Power and TTP. They were at the right place at the right time; While walking out on the marina, they noticed a small smoldering fire burning a stanchion and under the dock this weekend. They cut the power, dampened the fire, and waited for the fire dept to finish the task. Darin DiNucci has already inspected and made a safe temporary repair. Jim Lawrence is putting together a repair plan.

We have an early Launch Day this year. Mid morning weekend high tides just were not there this spring which leads to this early date. Sorry.

At our last membership meeting, it was pretty cool in the hall. A thermometer relay to the furnace was broken. Special thanks to Dana Ringdahl for diagnosing and fixing it the following day.

The winter weather to date this year thankfully has not been severe. Thanks go to John D'Olimpio for plowing the yard twice this month. It is appreciated. Members, we can always use a hand shoveling and snow blowing after a storm. See me if you want to help.

The New England Patriots have certainly made our Sundays interesting this fall. With them in the playoffs, the Corbett Lounge has had some exciting Sundays. The last two Sundays our members have been bringing in covered dishes. The mix was interesting and fun. Thank you all for the tasty foods you bought in. It was fun. Sorry we lost to Denver though. We hope you can come watch the Super Bowl with us any ways.

Keep your eyes open for coming events notices. A new, easily managed web page and Facebook page listing are in our future. This should make it easier to communicate quickly. Thank you.

Chris Wolseley,
Commodore
